

Letters From the People

A POSER FOR GARABRANT.

Reverend Charges in the City of Newark for Improvements—No Decrease in Saloons.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: As I was formerly a resident of your vicinity I naturally take great interest in everything pertaining to the welfare of your town. Being a constant reader of the CITIZEN, I was very much pleased to find so many valuable communications in your issue of last week against annexation to Newark. From personal experience I can verify all the statements that the contributors contained. I also read in the Newark papers an account of a meeting which David G. Garabrant addressed in your town in favor of annexation, in which he stated that the principal reason he urged for the movement was that Newark would give the people of Bloomfield more improvements than they now had, especially in the matter of good roads. If Mr. Garabrant thinks that these desired improvements will be made by the city at large, he is very much mistaken. The cost for all improvements will be assessed on the property benefited, not on the city at large. When I bought my present residence the street was paved with cobble stones, which continually needed relaying on account of the heavy traffic. When the authorities decided to put down a different kind of pavement, the majority of taxpayers in my neighborhood petitioned for oblong granite blocks, but the bicycle riders were very much in favor of asphalt, as the street extends from Washington Park, in the upper part of the city, to Lincoln Park, in the southern end. The bicyclists claimed that they had more votes in the city than the property-owners directly interested, and they won the day. Notwithstanding my property had been assessed for the original paving, I was compelled to pay my share for the new. The street is only about thirty feet wide from curb to curb, and my lot is but eighteen feet and a few inches front. My bill for this small amount of paving was $86.25! What do you think of this charge, Mr. Editor? All the old cobble stones and the curb stones for which the property-owners paid when they were put down were taken away and used elsewhere, and we received not one cent for them! Call you this justice? No, Mr. Garabrant, if you come into the city and want improvements, you will have to pay pretty dear for them.

Another reason that Mr. Garabrant gives for favoring annexation is that we have an excellent Excise Board, and that the saloons are on the decrease. Heaven save the mark! How does Mr. Garabrant know that the saloons are on the decrease? I understand that he is a New York business man, and consequently only passes through the city on the Lackawanna Railroad. I live here and know that they are on the increase. When I bought my present property there was one saloon on the block; now there are five, and one directly across the street on the end of the block, making six saloons within sight of my front door! On Sundays, in addition to the side-door customers, the "growler" is constantly on the go. And the same condition of things exists all over the city.

WM. M. LEE.

NEWARK, March 24, 1904.

A Plea for Sentiment.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: All this fuss about going into Newark reminds of a couple I knew some years ago. Hubby had been saving up money to buy a whole lot of things, useful and ornamental, for the house, when dearie would make up her mind that boarding was just the thing for them to do. Out would go the red flag and everything was disposed of at a sacrifice. It didn't matter if mother had sat in that old arm-chair for twenty-five years—let it go, and so with everything else; no room for sentiment. What was the result? no home, nothing to draw him to the fire-side, he sought elsewhere for what he could not get at home. Then some one said he had five generations of his family buried in Bloomfield cemetery. Citizens of Bloomfield can we afford the sacrifice? Let us count the cost and find out whether the gain is worth the candle. I am sure it is quite as respectable, and there is fully as much honor to be obtained by being known as a citizen of Bloomfield as there would be by going into Newark. Respectfully,

LOVER OF BLOOMFIELD.

A Suburbanite's View of It.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: There are quite a number of people now residing in Bloomfield who were attracted to the place because they were looking for a suburban home. These people came from New York city, Brooklyn and other large cities with growing families. The prospect pleased them, the schools were good and there was just enough excitement with the spring election to add zest to the occasion. If we are allowed to grow up by Newark away goes the High School for sure, and the quiet dignity of a township, becomes an outlying ward of Newark. What will be the result? These people will fold their tents and hit up to them or others to tell us why Bloomfield should become part of Newark. Have them write again please, to a citizen of Bloomfield.

A CITIZEN OF BLOOMFIELD.

A Personal Statement.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: At this season various remarks said to be quoted verbatim are in circulation. Both those in favor of and those opposed to annexation ought to "play fair," as the English say. In particular, a remark said to have been made by a certain distinguished educator, to me, is frequently quoted as having been repeated by me. The gentleman may have made to others the remark in question; but the only remark of his to me, regarding the schools of Bloomfield, that I have ever repeated was made in Bloomfield a year ago to some six or eight persons, of whom I was one. This was to the effect that Newark has no such elementary school-houses as Bloomfield has. This is obviously true.

I desire to call to the attention of "A Taxpaying Citizen" the fact that the Chairman of the Board of Education did not say that the per capita cost is increasing here, but that the total cost is increasing. This is true; the other statement is not true. Let me say also to this person that the Board of Education elects such officers as it chooses; if the present officers are not acceptable, the Board can elect others from its members upon organization this spring. The clerk, indeed, can be elected from the citizens, when that seems wise.

Regarding certain letters and statements, let me tell the story of the curate and the egg. The rector invited the young man to breakfast to meet his family. The curate did not seem to like his breakfast, whereupon the rector asked him, "Do you not like your breakfast? Is not the egg good?" "Thank you, thank you," replied the curate, "parts of it are good."

I desire to bring emphatically to public attention the importance of due care in testing the credibility of rumors in these days. Very respectfully,

WM. E. CHANCELLOR.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., March 24, 1904.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: A few words in regard to "THAT MEETING." I have read with great interest the letters in that last issue of the CITIZEN, and all that has been written condemning ANNEXATION and the methods that are being used by the men whom we trusted in the past, but who are now (for reasons that do not appear to the ordinary citizen), using every effort in a secret way to give our town over to the city of Newark. Three of these gentlemen attempted to defend "THAT MEETING" by a way that they mean to have our towns-people take as an explanation of their action, it does not explain and tells part of the truth only. They convey the impression that "THAT MEETING" was called to consider annexation. It was probably the purpose of a certain few who attended to agitate, or advise, or push annexation, but a large majority who attended went with the understanding and purpose to confer as to the best candidates for town office, and the scheme to annex was a surprise to most of them, and we are to understand by this letter of defence in your last issue, that much to the surprise of the gentlemen who favored annexation, the vote to annex was unanimous. Is it not a fact that many did not vote at all either for or against annexation, and had sufficient time been given for consideration many would have voted "NO?"

They also make it appear in their defense that it was a matter of discretion with them to add the referendum clause to their bill. Was it not their desire and purpose and was not every effort made by these very men to push their bill without the referendum clause, and their discretion came in when they learned that under no consideration would the legislature entertain even in committee, a bill without said clause, so they were compelled to add referendum to get it before the legislature, so much for their discretion. Had the law-makers at Trenton been willing to take their bill, is it not true that at their conference with the officials in Newark, they were given to understand that the people of that city would not under any condition accept a town as part of their municipality, that the people objected to, or did not know about or had no opportunity to vote for.

Why are these gentlemen so anxious to annex to Newark? Why don't they give us an honest explanation in their defense of "THAT MEETING" Why do they not tell us discussion was not desired and agitation was not wanted? They of course had a perfect right to meet in secret, and it was perfectly legitimate for them to confer together and talk over matters concerning our town. That is all true, but where in the name of common sense has half a dozen or thirty citizens the right to decide for the voters of Bloomfield that annexation to Newark is what they want. May the good Lord save us from such conferences and give us the opportunity as citizens of a free country to vote in our own home town as to its best interest. The writer hopes that the time may never come in our history as a town that a few, a very few, shall be able to ruin if they cannot rule.

The letter of the Three Wise Men does not explain "THAT MEETING," and it is up to them or others to tell us why Bloomfield should become part of Newark. Have them write again please, to a citizen of Bloomfield.

Spring Medicine

There is no other season when good medicine is so much needed as in the Spring. The blood is impure, weak and impoverished—a condition indicated by pimples and other eruptions on the face, and body, by deficient vitality, loss of appetite, lack of strength, and want of animation.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Make the blood pure, vigorous and rich, create appetite, give vitality, strength and animation, and cure all eruptions. Have the whole family begin to take them today.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has been used in our family for some time, and always with good results. Last spring I was all run down and got a bottle of it, and as usual received great benefit." Miss BEULAH BOWEN, Stowe, Vt.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keep the promise.

The Annexation Bill.

The annexation bill was introduced in the Legislature on Monday night by Senator Bacheller of Essex county. The bill was prepared by Halsey M. Barrett. It provides for the annexation of this town to the city of Newark. The bill is equipped with a referendum clause which provides that the proposition must be voted on by the people of Bloomfield at the coming spring election. If a majority of the people of this town shall be in favor of annexation, then the question goes to the Mayor and Common Council of Newark for final disposition. The referendum proposition is the same as that attached by the Essex Senator to the Wallingborough annexation bill.

Members of the Legislature have been given to understand that there will not be much opposition to the annexation plan. Such an impression is erroneous. There is no disputing the fact that there is a decided opposition to annexation, and the promoters of it know that they have to spend a large amount of money to carry it through and are prepared to do it.

Hundreds of people within the past few days have expressed themselves as opposed to annexation, and have announced their intention of voting against it. The fact is the people of Bloomfield have been given no say as to whether or not it was wise to apply to the Legislature for an annexation bill. Twelve men, whose local political plans went awry, decided that it was the thing to do, and were determined to do it. It is perfectly in line with the underhanded policy that has smothered this movement from its inception to now go to Trenton and represent it as a popular movement.

The Crucifixion.

Sir John Stainer's sacred cantata, "The Crucifixion," will be sung by the Westminster quartette and chorus on Thursday evening, March 31st, in the church. This beautiful and impressive service has been given in Westminster Church for several years in succession, and there is no composition of its character that appeals to the religious sentiment as does "The Crucifixion." It is sung all over the civilized world, and will continue to be until something better is written.

"The story of the cross," as it might be called, opens with Christ's agony in the garden of Gethsemane, and closes with His death on the cross. The music throughout is most solemn and appropriate. The divisions of the work are in a general way as follows:

1. "And they came to a place named Gethsemane."
2. "And when they were come."
3. "He made Himself of no Reputation."
4. "The Majesty of the Divine Humiliation."
5. "And as Moses lifted up the Serpent."
6. "God so loved the World."
7. "So Thou liest Thy Divine Petition."
8. "When Jesus therefore saw His Mother."
9. "Is it nothing to you?"
10. "The Appeal of the Crucified."

Services will begin at 8 o'clock. Seats are free, and a cordial invitation is extended to every one to be present.

Grade Crossing Accident.

An accident caused by a trolley car being struck by a drill engine occurred at the Broad street grade crossing of the Lackawanna Railroad, Newark, at about 5:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Very little damage was done to the rolling stock, and no one was hurt. Trolley car No. 901, of the Bloomfield line, bound north, was crossing the tracks when a large drill engine used for switching purposes struck the front truck, throwing the car off the track. James Briscoe, the motorman, and the conductor were not hurt, although their escape from injury or death is considered remarkable. The accident delayed traffic on the line for several hours.

A Million Dollar Building.

A million-dollar office and banking building will soon be erected by the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company on the site of its present structure at the northeast corner of Broad and Clinton streets, Newark, and the two Broad street lots it purchased from the American Insurance Company a few years ago. The new building will be constructed of white granite, and will be six stories high. It will front 100 feet on Broad street, with a depth of 191 feet, and the height from the sidewalk to the roof will be 130 feet. The plans for this splendid building have been drawn by Architect George B. Post of New York.
